

M Designs Debuts Website – Dallas Firm Delivers Clients' Vision through Personalized Interior Design

Dallas, TX (PRWEB) January 12, 2006 – Dallas interior design firm, M Designs, has launched their new website, www.mdesignsinteriors.com. Designed as an informative site to familiarize clients with the unique approach on their commissions, the site also highlights recent projects, background on the firm and it's owner, Denise McGaha, and contact information.

The website was designed by John Blausey of wantabetterwebsite.com whose client list includes Heather Hays and Miguel Harth-Bedoya.

M Designs has built a reputation for delivering a clients' vision, not necessarily, her own. "I never want one of our engagements to be recognizable. I continually recreate myself and my interiors and they should be a reflection of the client, not of me. Our environment is meant to bring comfort and peace, and when we leave, our clients' personality, style and wit should be reflected in the space," states McGaha.

M Designs has built their website to feature their approach, as well as share information on new projects. "The website will allow us to communicate with our client base, as well as potential clients and the media."

Recent commissions include the interior design of the new 5,500 square foot International Marble Collection (IMC) Retail Showroom in Fort Worth; an 11,000 square foot Mediterranean Villa in Glenwyck Farms for Victor and Tina Nguyen; and an 11,000 square foot Old World Manor in Glenwyck Farms for Mike and Jennifer Stallings.

M Designs is a full service design firm offering complete interior design services, including, retail and commercial interior design, builder services for new construction, drapery, furnishings, and accessories. Under the direction of Denise McGaha, M Designs brings together a team with a wealth of skills and talent.

The staff is fluent in interiors, graphics, landscaping, tile, and construction design. In addition, the firm offers project management, purchasing and budgeting services on each design project. With academic backgrounds that span the business and design world, the team is as cohesive as it is diverse.

Throughout the course of a project, M Designs associates divide their time between active job sites, vendor showrooms and studios, and offices located in the rear of the "Classic Floors and Design" Showroom in Dallas. For more information about M Designs, please visit www.mdesignsinteriors.com.